Bring on Tomorrow

Changes. So far our lives have been a series of important changes to prepare us for life in the "real world." Growing, experiencing, and gathering knowledge have all taken place in preparation for what lies ahead. A new chapter will be opened in our lives on June 4, 1995. This will be a time of momentous changes: college, jobs, living away from home, and becoming independent. Dealing with this new way of life whould be less stressful and easier to handle since the last thirteen years have been spent as a preparation for this event.
