

The 1994-95 school year was one of trends at FHS. Clothing trends seem to change frequently. People either wore what looked good, or felt comfortable. "Style" is hard to define, but people that incorporate "style" into their everyday dress are called trend-setters. Trendsetters must like flannel shirts, because they seem to have come back into "style". Many people seem to be wearing flannels, along with boots, vests, and body suits (for women). Bryan Kohagen feels that "body suits bring out the finer qualities in women!"

Gwen Thelen says "I like body suits, as long as they aren't too tight."

Karmen Epkey likes flannel shirts because "they are comfortable and warm."

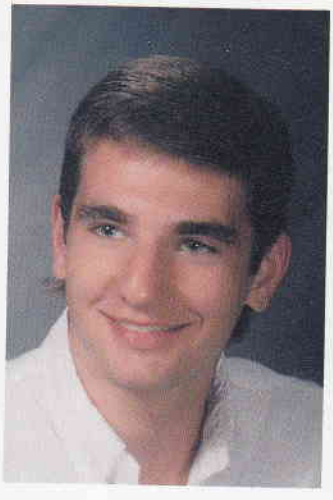

Erin Braun feels that boots are "comfortable and they go with a lot."
